Brushing up skills and building benches!

On Saturday, April 11, our Appalachia Service Project (ASP) team gathered to sharpen their construction skills ahead of this summer's trip and put those skills to work building benches for our community. Along the way, they practiced safety, measuring, cutting, drilling, installing siding, and more.

The result? Three brand-new benches that will soon be painted and placed around town to offer rest and welcome at bus stops and parks.

Want to jump in? Join us on Wednesday, June 10, from 5:00-7:00pm for an evening of building and painting as we create more benches to spread a little extra joy across the city.
